IRELAND MAY SEE BLOODY EASTER

Griffith's Speech Tomorrow Expected to Bring Serious Clash

REBELS CONTINUE GAINS

More Public Buildings Taken by Republican Forces

DUBLIN. — (United Press.) — With Four Courts, one of the principal public buildings in the hands of Irish republicans, a bloody clash between the De Valera and free state factions is feared when Arthur Griffith speaks at Sligo on Easter Sunday.

At Sligo, free state troops are in possession of the jail, while armed republicans have taken over the town hall, the court house and other buildings. In face of this setting for a battle, Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann and one of the leading supporters of the free state, is determined to go ahead with his plans for addressing a free state meeting.

BUILDINGS GUARDED
The republicans, who seized Four Courts after subduing watchmen and caretakers with guns, remained undisturbed in possession of the building today. Roderick O'Connor, leader of the rebels, declared that Eamonn De Valera, leader of the republican cause, was not aware of the seizure and was in no way connected with it.

"We fortified the place merely as precaution," O'Connor said. "I don't think the provisional troops will attempt to retake it." He reiterated that no revolution was planned.

PAIR CELEBRATES 70TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

BELLEFONTAINE — Emmanuel Shields and his wife today celebrated their seventieth wedding anniversary by entertaining many of their friends who called at the Shields home to extend felicitations on the unusual event.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shields are past 90 years of age and have lived in this country for more than one-third of a century.

NAVY SHOWDOWN DUE TODAY

House Expected to Vote on Proposed Personnel Cut

WASHINGTON. — (United Press.) — With President Harding and his leaders in the lower branch of congress in an open split on what the size of the "treaty navy" should be the house met today for a showdown as to whether the sea forces should be cut to 86,000 or 67,000 men. The former is the figure urged by Harding.

Indications were the bigger navy advocates would win out. They claimed 200 votes pledged. "Little navy" members also professed confidence. All Chairman Kelly, in charge of the 67,000 bill would say, was "we are still confident the bill will go thru as reported."

GOUGH ACQUITTED
AKRON. — A jury in common pleas court acquitted Elmer Gough, 22, of a manslaughter charge in connection with the deaths of Judge Philip B. Treash and C. M. Woodruff, business manager of Akron schools, killed when Gough's unoccupied truck ran the men down on a hill.

WILSON TO STAY OUT OF POLITICS

Will Take no Part in Congressional Campaign

MAY NEVER RE-ENTER ARENA

Position Revealed With Reference to Tumulty Break

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)
WASHINGTON. — (United Press.) — Woodrow Wilson will take virtually no part in the congressional campaigns this fall.

This was the belief in political circles here as the result of the breach between the former president and his ex-secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, growing out of the dispute as to whether Tumulty was authorized to convey a message from Wilson to the recent Jeffersonian banquet in New York.

From sources considered close to the former president, it was learned Wilson's repudiation of the message Tumulty gave the banquet was not taken with any design to check the boom for James M. Cox for president in 1924, or to aid William G. McAdoo, but to make it clear he is not abandoning his determination to keep out of politics.

TIME NOT RIPE
Wilson may get into politics before the next presidential election, some of his friends believe. Others think he will never return to the political ring. But all agree that he does not consider the present time ripe for re-entry and that he does not intend to "get into" the congressional campaign.

TOLEDO WOMAN, SLAYER OF EX-HUSBAND, REMOVED FROM JAIL TO HOSPITAL

TOLEDO. — Miss Curlessa Simon who shot and killed her former husband, John H. Tepper, Toledo restaurant proprietor, in his place of business Sunday night, was removed from the county jail to a sanitarium here last night, upon orders from County Prosecutor Roy Stuart, following the submission of a report by three doctors who gave the woman a cursory examination at the prosecutor's request.

Miss Simon who has not eaten since her arrest immediately following the murder, is being fed thru tubes at the sanitarium in an attempt to break the hunger strike she has imposed upon herself. If the slayer's condition warrants it, a thorough examination of her mental condition probably will be made late today, it was announced at the sanitarium.

A further continuance of the case was granted in police court yesterday and Wednesday of next week set as the date for arraignment.

STRANGER SLAIN BY POLICEMAN

Shot When Acting Suspiciously At Columbus

COLUMBUS. — An unidentified white man was shot and killed here early today when he failed to comply with a policeman's order to put up his hands. The man was acting suspiciously about a north side home, a neighbor reported to police.

The bullet passed thru the man's body. He had a revolver in one hand and a screw driver in the other when shot.

DIES OF INJURIES
CINCINNATI. — Jennie Frohman, 71, matron at the county jail, died of injuries received when she was struck by an automobile March 28.

ALLIES' DEMANDS TURNED DOWN

Russia Refuses to Recognize War Debts

MAY DISRUPT GENOA PARLEY

Britain Inclined to Yield, But France is Firm

(BY HENRY WOOD)
GENOA. — (United Press.) — Allied representatives to the Genoa economic conference today took up again the attempt to win from the soviet delegates recognition of Russian war debts and guarantees that will protect future investors in Russia.

The fate of the whole conference appeared to hang on this question with the Russians taking the position that payment of many of the debts of the old czarist regime should not be demanded of them. They declared that no country intended to pay the allies war debts and pointed to the failure of France and Great Britain to pay the United States.

Discussion of the question was resumed today in a semi-official meeting at Lloyd George's villa. The Russians in a statement of their position declared they did not come to Genoa to put their heads in a noose whereby future generations would be enslaved by a burden of indemnities. The British seemed willing to modify their position in the debt question but the French insisted that the Russians pay.

Another meeting of the full conference will be held early next week if Lloyd George succeeds in finding a common ground for the French and Russians.

THREE OHIOANS KILLED BY TRAIN IN TEXAS

A fourth member of the party, Edward Miner, of Port Henry, N. Y., escaped death by choosing the path beside the tracks as a place to sleep.

THREE STUDENTS DIE IN WRECK

Interurban Car Smashes Into Auto Near Fairfield

DAYTON. — (Associated Press.) — Officials today are investigating the grade crossing accident late yesterday near Fairfield, when three Fairfield high school students were instantly killed when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by an eastbound traction car at the Byrontown crossing near Fairfield. The dead are Daniel Lang, Jr., 16, Marjorie Snediker, 16, and Lucille Fisher, 16.

The tragedy happened in the midst of a blinding rainstorm. Young Lang, who was driving the automobile, failed to notice the approach of the car and drove on the tracks directly in its path.

Weather Bureau Issues Warning As Rivers Rise

COLUMBUS. — (Associated Press.) — Practically all rivers and streams in central and southern Ohio were on a rampage today following an average rainfall of 2.75 inches over the southern half of the state yesterday and last night.

Clear and cooler weather today, however, was expected to check the rapidly rising streams and prevent serious flood conditions such as prevailed in 1913.

The government weather bureau here announced this morning that most serious flood conditions prevailed in the Hocking river valley between Lancaster and Athens. Thousands of acres of plowed farm land was reported inundated with estimated millions loss to farmers and railroads. Railroad traffic in this territory was almost completely suspended and several families had been forced to leave their homes in the lowlands.

FLOOD WARNING ISSUED
The weather bureau this morning issued a flood warning to cities and villages along the Muskingum river south of Cochocton. This river was reported rising rapidly. Serious conditions were not expected by the weather bureau, but the residents of the valley were warned to be prepared.

The Scioto river was at flood stage.

BINGHAM TO URGE LICENSE LAW

Drastic Regulations For Pool Rooms Are Planned

Opening guns in the plan for licensing of local poolrooms will be fired Monday night at a meeting of the city commission when Manager C. A. Bingham will present an ordinance providing drastic changes in control of such places of business.

The principal feature of the ordinance will be a bond of $500 which must be executed by each proprietor following inspections by the chiefs of the fire department and police and the head of the health division.

Inspections are designed to obtain information on the hazards, toilet facilities and the record of the poolrooms as to conduct and morals.

Permitting minors in the places, gambling and other conditions affecting public morals will be construed as violation of the bond, and bring about its forfeiture, is the plan of Manager Bingham.

Another feature is that windows in view of pedestrians shall not be curtained, or the interior obscured by any other method from public view.

On recommendation by Chief of Police T. A. Lanter, a clause may be inserted which construes presence of bootleggers in the places as violation of the bond.

The ordinance will become effective May 1, according to Bingham, it passed.

Fire Chief John Mack is in for extra work, if plans of the commission regarding the regulation of a lot of other heretofore unlicensed property is carried out.

Inspection of all electrical signs in the city may be one of the tasks. Manager Bingham announced Saturday he is considering a license of $3 for the signs.

Regulation of awnings in the up-town district may also be considered. Awnings less than six feet six inches from the sidewalk will not be permitted.

60 BARREL WELL NEAR BEAVERDAM

C. A. Peavy Opens Big Oiler on Lyle Lewis Lease

Preparations for extensive drilling for oil near Beaverdam are being made by oilmen as result of a 60 to 75 barrel strike made by C. A. Peavy, of Martinsburg, on the Lyle Lewis lease, northeast of Lima.

A well has been brought in at 1200 feet by Peavy. Its natural flow, oil men say, will be better than 60 barrels daily. About 35 barrels was tanked within a few hours after it was brought in. It may be unnecessary to shoot it to increase production.

"According to reports," declared M. P. Colt, of the National Supply company, "this producer is the largest opened in the Lima field for many years."

The well is located north and east of one recently brought in by the Spelacy interests on the Shanahan farm. It is on the edge of the old Lima field some distance from producing territory. Pumping will be started Saturday, and the exact production determined.

Oilmen predict that the Spelacy well, southeast of Peavy's strike, will be in operation within a few days. Drilling announced that they will be able to control water in the well and that it may pump as high as 30 barrels daily.

TAXPAYERS SLOW; RUSH TO START COMING WEEK

May 1 is the last day for filing personal tax returns. In order to secure the $100 exemption, County Auditor C. R. Phillips announced Saturday.

Only a small per cent of the taxpayers of the county have made returns up to date. The annual eleven hour rush, he predicts, will commence early the coming week.

Assessors in various townships have not completed the distribution of tax blanks.

TRUCK WRECKED; DRIVER HURT
WAPAKONETA — Virgil McClintock, 23, was seriously injured and a truck he was driving was demolished when struck by a north bound E. & O. passenger train at the Park-st crossing here.

ON WITH THE DANCE—OR OFF? DEBATE IS STARTED

NEW YORK CLERGYMEN ARGUE USE OF "EURHYTHMIC RITUAL" IN CHURCHES

NEW YORK—(Special)—On with the dance! Or off with it? Barefoot girls dance on a stage built before the sanctuary of an old New York church while incense burns and three blue spot lights play on them. This in an annual "Eurhythmic Ritual" arranged by the pastor. His action has aroused considerable adverse comment among the clergy of New York. In the following articles he explains his idea, while one of his strongest opponents attacks it.

FOR

BY DR. W. N. GUTHRIE,
Rector, Church of St. Mark-in-the-Bowery, New York

THE use of the dance in religious services started. But why not the dance, if any of the other arts? The public now accepts music; to some extent, decoration and the plastic arts. It is beginning to see that if drama at Oldham-gate can vividly present Christ, it can be of use in our churches.

Why not, then, the dance? At St. Mark's-in-the-Bowery, we have developed a technique by which we engage the interest of a considerable number of the unchurched. At a poetry symposium, the congregation is largely made up of poets. When drama is brought into the service, the church is jammed with actors.

Why not the dance? Of all the arts it has been the most debased in the past three centuries. The efforts at its revival have been conducted in a hostile world and have been largely nullified. It is not a question now of whether the artistic dance shall be or not. It is a question of what it will be.

The dance must be either a pathway to Heaven or a pathway to Hell.

Is it not then, good strategy to restore to the art of the dance its religious function? At least, in one place, once a year? This is what we are doing on the Feast of Annunciation at St. Mark's.

Our Eurhythmic Ritual is performed as a solemn celebration of pure, holy motherhood.

TAG SALES START OFF BRISKLY

People in Generous Mood as Aid Is Sought For Hospital

Sale of tags by the Woman's Board of Managers of the District Tuberculosis hospital, for the purpose of securing funds to continue the work they have begun at the hospital, started off Saturday morning with a vigor previously unknown members say. First returns indicate that the goal set by the board, will be reached.

Bright sunshine, following heavy rains, set people in a generous mood and those selling tags had little trouble in disposing of them.

One hundred and twenty-five young women, working under a member of the board as chaperones, sold the tags on Lima streets. In towns of Allen-co and the four other counties which aid in supporting the hospital—Auglaize, Van Wert, Shelby and Mercer, tags were also sold Saturday.

To provide comforts to patients and to assist in nursing them back to health, funds will be used to install pleasure-giving devices and to equip the hospital.

Commissioner A. J. Gray predicted that the investigation would show the original route to be the most practical and the cheapest in the long run.

Two crossings are already afforded protection, he said, and it is planned to compel the railroad to station a watchman at the crossing east of Delphos. A tunnel will eliminate danger at Scotts Crossing.

AGAINST

DR. J. F. NORRIS,
"Texas Tornado," Conducting Revival Services in New York City with the dance.

O The gospel has plenty of power to draw a congregation without devising a side show to go with it.

Several years ago I visited a lunatic asylum in Texas. I noticed that the floor was hard wood, waxed and slick as glass. I asked the warden why. He explained that the only diversion that the lunatics indulged in that would cause them to forget their troubles was the dance.

Ever since then I have been very charitable toward all dancing.

But dancing in a church is a revival of pagan practice.

If the church of today should plant itself squarely and firmly on the whole Bible, with nothing added to it and nothing taken from it, it would not have to resort to side entertainments of questionable character.

Dancing is the agency of the devil. It takes no prophet to see where we are drifting when leading women smoke cigarettes and attend prize fights one day and give dances in the churches the next.

If the church people of this country do not wake up to the perils of the times in which we are living, it will not be long until we will eat the heart out of this republic.

The biggest issue of this hour is whether or not our churches shall purge themselves from the leaven of this world.

PAIR IS RELEASED

Lucas Brothers, White Slave Act Suspects, Leave City

Release of Gustav and Michael Lucas, Greeks, held at city jail since April 8 under suspicion of being agents of dives of ill repute in other cities, was ordered Saturday. Chief of Police T. A. Lanter acted after failing to receive a return on photographs and fingerprints which were sent to Chicago police Monday.

After their week's accumulation of trouble was scraped from their faces at a barber shop, the brothers left the city. Police did not ask them where they were going, nor did they broach any information on that point.

According to police, they have no homes, but travel from city to city. They were bound for Chicago, however, when Captain George Strick intercepted them at the Pennsylvania depot a week ago.

They admitted, police say, to being agents for eating places in Chicago, in seeking cabaret girls. They came here about six weeks ago and inserted advertisements in local papers. More than a score of young women, many of them married, answered, but only one accepted their proposition. She was with the Greeks when they were arrested.

WILLIS, CABLE AID IN RESTORATION OF ROAD FUNDS OF THIS COUNTY

Belief that federal aid will be forthcoming for the construction of the Elida-Delphos rd was expressed in a letter written to Senator Frank B. Willis by Thomas H. McDonald, chief of the federal bureau of public roads.

A copy of the letter was received Saturday by J. Kennard Johnson, manager of the chamber of commerce, with letters from Senator Willis and Congressman John L. Cable stating that every effort is being made to obtain federal assistance.

"The project has not been definitely rejected and it is hoped that some satisfactory arrangement may be made to minimize the danger of the railway crossings," the letter from MacDonald says.

A letter stating that two of the crossings are protected by watchmen at the present time has been forwarded to the department by Johnson and a supplemental statement from Leon C. Herrick, commissioner of highways, will follow, Johnson said.

JACQUELINE LEBAUDY CURSE VICTIM

MME. JACQUES LEBAUDY AND HER DAUGHTER, MME. JACQUELINE LEBAUDY SUDREAU.

PARIS—(Special)—Superstitious persons who believe in the power of curses say Jacqueline Lebaudy is the victim of a curse put on the Lebaudy millions more than 40 years ago.

The Lebaudy fortune was accumulated by the old French sugar king. The story of the curse, as told by familiars of the founder of the fortune, is that he stooped to sharp practices in dealing with the sugar beet farmers of a French village. The result was that some families were reduced to poverty and starvation. A young mother, seeing her infant daughter die from hunger, sought out Lebaudy and cursed him, saying:

"Your sugar shall turn to gall; the sweetness of your fortune shall turn to bitterness for you and your children and your children's children."

After Jacques Lebaudy came into inheritance of the fortune, he started Paris by many wild undertakings, the climax coming when he decided to set himself up as "Emperor of the Sahara." He was going to have a court exceeding in barbaric splendor, with harem and dancing girls and swimming pools, the wildest dreams of an American scenario.

The climax came only a couple of years ago, when Mme. Lebaudy shot and killed the "emperor"—in defense of her daughter's honor, she said. A jury acquitted her on this point.

Henry Sudreau, the French detective, assisted Mme. Lebaudy in her defense. Later she took her daughter to Paris where they lived with the Sudreaus.

Then came the announcement of Jacqueline's marriage to Sudreau's son, Roger.

The Sudreaus claim this was a love match.

But the Lebaudys are quoted by friends as saying it was merely a marriage of convenience, so that Jacqueline could come into possession of her $20,000,000 or more.

Then Jacqueline and her mother vanished.

The Sudreaus started a frenzied search for her, blaming an Egyptian fortune-teller for their flight.

MRS. SWANEY IS GIVEN DIVORCE, ALIMONY AND CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

Custody of her two little daughters, Helen, 8 and Catherine, 6, and alimony amounting to $6 a week, was awarded Mrs. Beryl M. Swaney, 210 N. Park-av, in a divorce decree in common pleas court Saturday.

Harold McCoy Swaney, an employee of the Union Stores, the husband, was not present in court. The decree was granted on grounds of cruelty and neglect.

The Swaneys were married in Lima in 1914, testimony showed: Mrs. Swaney told the court her husband failed to provide her with necessities of life and frequently absented himself from home for long periods.

The costs of the action were assessed to the defendant.

HERE ARE SUGGESTIONS TO CUT YOUR INCOME TAX NEXT YEAR

By R. A. CONKEY
Tax Consultant, Central National Bank Savings & Trust Company, Cleveland

THE time for filing individual income tax returns for the calendar year 1921 has just passed, and no doubt most of us will give the subject little thought again until the time comes when we will have to file our returns for 1922.

The purpose of this article is to impress on the minds of taxpayers the importance of keeping some kind of a record of their taxable incomes and allowable expenses for the year.

Often taxpayers would be rightfully entitled to deduct from their 1921 income amounts spent during the year for certain items, but they have no records of the amount of the item and hesitate to claim the deductions for fear they may be called upon to substantiate the amount claimed.

This, of course, could not be done without some record of the transaction. If some simple record were kept, the item could be conscientiously claimed and result in a saving of tax to the taxpayer.

Another great advantage where records are kept is that the task of making up the return is simplified and results in a saving of time to yourself and the person assisting you.

It is also important to the taxpayer that his items of income are clearly analyzed, as certain kinds of income are entirely exempt from the tax.

Following are a few suggestions as to items of which records should be kept:

Salary—A record should be kept of the amount received from each source.

Interest on Bank Deposits, Notes, Mortgages and Corporation Bonds—As certain corporation bonds contain a tax-free covenant clause and a portion of the normal tax is assumed by the debtor corporation, the amount of this interest should be kept separate, as you are allowed as a credit the amount of tax paid for you by the corporation.

Interest on municipal bonds is exempt from the tax and need not be reported. Interest on Liberty and Victory Bonds is entirely exempt from the normal tax, but in certain cases is subject to the surtax and therefore a record should be kept of the amount of interest received from each issue.

Rent and Royalties—If you own renting property, a record should be kept of the amount of rent received, the amount expended for repairs and other expenses.

Business or Profession—Your records should show the total receipts from the business and a well-itemized list of the business expenses.

Sale of Real Estate—If you sell real estate during the year, note the year in which it was acquired, cost prior to that date, cost of subsequent improvements, amount of depreciation claimed in former years and the sale price.

Sale of Stocks and Bonds—If you sell stocks or bonds during the year, note the year acquired, cost price, March 1, 1913, value, if acquired prior to that date, and the sale price.

Dividends—If you receive dividends on stocks of domestic corporations, the amount should be kept separate as they are not subject to the normal tax; and if your net income including dividends does not exceed $6,000 they do not enter into your computation.

Interest Paid—With a very few exceptions all interest paid is an allowable deduction and therefore a careful record of the amounts paid should be kept.

Taxes Paid—All taxes, with a few exceptions, are allowable deductions and a record of the kinds and amounts should be kept. One item of taxes, which very few people keep any record of, is the luxury tax; this is an allowable deduction; and no doubt if you would jot down the dates and amounts as you pay them, you would be very much surprised at the end of the year to see how they had accumulated.

Contributions—Gifts to organized charitable, religious and educational institutions are allowable deductions and a record should be kept of the names of institutions with the amounts given to each.

Losses—If you suffered any loss during the year from fire, storm, theft, etc., make a note of cost on March 1, 1913, value, depreciation previously claimed, salvage value and insurance received.

It is not necessary that the average individual keep a set of double entry books, but some simple form of record should be kept. Even a vest-pocket memorandum will do.

DESERT WILL BE RECLAIMED

2,000,000,000 Acres to be Made Fertile in Washington

WILL REQUIRE SIX YEARS

General Goethals Recommends Project in Report

(BY PHILIP SINNOTT)

SPOKANE Wash. — (Special) — The Columbia Basin desert beat the "dust eaters" when they struggled to "dry farm" it.

Now the desert itself is on the verge of defeat!

The Columbia Basin is a tract of more than 2700 square miles in southeastern Washington. Scattered over its wastes are monuments to the failure of the "dust eaters," scores of deserted homestead shacks left by the dry farmers who, after years of unremitting toil, were driven out by the desert.

But a change is to come. In place of the desolated shacks, 20,000 to 40,000 irrigated farms will appear. At a cost of $254,000,000, water will be carried into the basin and will reclaim nearly 2,000,000 acres.

Such are the hopes for the Columbia Basin project, world's largest reclamation plan to get beyond the "just talk" stage.

GORTHAL'S O. K.'S IT
Maj. Gen. George Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal, after a thorough investigation of the project, has declared in a report that it is entirely feasible.

Goethals estimates the whole area can be turned into productive land at a cost of $145 an acre. He thinks the project should be financed directly by the government.

Goethals in his report declares the whole reclamation project could be finished in six years.

Two main plans for irrigating the big tract have been put forward. One contemplates a gravity system with water from another state. The other would pump water from the Columbia River.

Concentration of the watershed of northwestern Montana and northern Idaho and delivery to the project by a canal-tunnel-lake line 130 miles long is the method for supplying the gravity system.

An area of approximately 25,000 square miles drains into Pend Oreille Lake, in northern Idaho. From this, the Pend Oreille River carries it to the Columbia.

At Newport, on the Idaho-Washington line, it is proposed to divert 4,000,000 acre feet for the Columbia Basin. Thru a system of concrete lined canals, long tunnels and natural and artificial lakes, the water will be carried over hills and ravines to the arid acres.

Tunnels, up to 18 miles in length; huge steel pipes, which as inverted siphons will carry a flow equal to that of the Merrimac River down one hill and over the other; a monster aqueduct over the Spokane River within this city's limits—these are some of the features connected with the big task, which would put water on 1,730,000 acres of tested land, flood additional lands occasionally for use as pastureage, and thru a system of power plants along its course, provide cheap electric power for operation of canneries and other seasonal industries, besides pump water to higher lands.

Another plan—termed the Columbia pumping project—would haul water from the Columbia River 600 feet above its level with a gigantic battery of powerful pumps, stretching for more than a third of a mile. The Grand Coulee, once the bed of the Columbia, would again carry water, this time as the principal canal for the system. A slightly smaller acreage would be watered thru this plan.

Traversing the area are four transcontinental railway lines and several short roads. The Columbia and Snake rivers are navigable, and the state highways afford yet another outlet.

Nearly equidistant between Spokane on the east and Seattle, Tacoma and Portland on the west, the project has unrivaled facilities for shipping its products to the east, to the coast district and to the Orient.

Construction of the project is a Herculean proposition; financing it will be equally as big. The Smith-McNary reclamation measure now before Congress may open the way.

EASTER EGG PARTY FOR KIDDIES AT BARR HOTEL ARRANGED FOR SUNDAY

The Easter rabbit made an early visit to the Barr hotel, N. Union-st. Orna O. Barr, proprietor of that hostelry announced Saturday, that the bunny had left 2,000 colored Easter eggs there Friday night.

So Barr has decided to have a party for the kiddies of Lima. The event will be staged at the hotel at 2 p. m. Sunday. Kiddies all over the city are invited. Each will be given an Easter egg, so long as the supply laid by the rabbit holds out.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO HEAR PAPER BY E. OWEN

Changes which have been wrought in Main-st. from a point south of the public square to the Ottawa river, will form the basis of a paper, to be read by E. Owen before the Allen-Historical society at the April meeting.

Business changes and new enterprises will feature the paper. The meeting will be held Friday evening, April 28 at Memorial Hall.

FAIR WEATHER EASTER PROMISE

There's nothing quite so delightful as sunshine in springtime, in the opinion of most everyone, particularly so when it follows a period of gloom, with cold rains and, Old Sol temporarily off the job.

Return of the sun early Saturday was the occasion for rejoicing. There was a new song of gladness in the hearts of mankind. And the forecast made by the weatherman indicates that the desirable condition is to continue, for a time at least.

Fair tonight, slightly warmer in northwest portion. Sunday partly cloudy and warmer.

Rays of sunshine bring renewed interest in outdoor diversions. Delightful weather conditions are in store for Easter Sunday, according to predictions. An old adage has it that when it rains on Easter, there'll be a similar visitation on seven Sundays following.

It will probably fail in achieving the success of either of these plays, but "The Hairy Ape" is significant in that it may mark the definite departure of O'Neill from the established dramatic form to which Broadway audiences are accustomed.

O'NEILL'S "THE HAIRY APE" TO GIVE BROADWAY ANOTHER DEPARTURE FROM UNUSUAL DRAMA

BY JOHN O'DONNELL

NEW YORK—(Special)—Within the next few weeks more light will be shed on the unsolved theatrical problem of the relationship of enthusiastic praise in Greenwich Village to commercial success in Times Square.

A month ago Eugene O'Neill's eight-episode tragedy, "The Hairy Ape," was produced by the Provincetown Players in their MacDougal-st theater. By one academic expert it was pronounced the best play of the year; another called it the best play ever written by O'Neill.

Now the play is to be produced on Broadway by Arthur Hopkins in the hope that it will duplicate the New York success of "Anna Christie" and the continued road success of "Emperor Jones."

It will probably fail in achieving the success of either of these plays, but "The Hairy Ape" is significant in that it may mark the definite departure of O'Neill from the established dramatic form to which Broadway audiences are accustomed.

In "The Hairy Ape" O'Neill tells the story of the awakening of a proletarian mind in eight episodes—episodes which are brilliant, at times melodramatic, and which in every case make a terrific assault on the attention of the audience.

The dramatic form is that of "Emperor Jones," and in adopting this form O'Neill's decision is analogous to a writer who has discarded the novel and seeks to gain his effect by a series of connected short stories.

In "The Hairy Ape" the eight dramatic short stories begin with the scene in the firemen's forecave of an ocean liner when Yank Smith, the burly, ignorant stoker, proclaims his creed: the fact that "he belongs."

Gloriously blasphemous, taking pride in his animal strength, he shouts his love for the machinery of which he feels himself a part and his contempt for the passengers; "they're only baggage."

TRAGEDY BEGINS
Yank Smith's tragedy begins with the discovery that he doesn't belong. A girl from the first cabin, shuffling into the stoke hole, sees the human animals in action and with a shiver of revulsion cries out against the "hairy ape" when Yank, stripped to the waist and covered with sweat, approaches her.

Yank's realization that he doesn't belong, that the human race has rejected him and his kind steadily grows.

RADIO FANS ASKED TO REPORT HEALTH TALKS TO DR. J. J. SUTTER

Radio fans are invited by the state department of health to "tune in" on the radiograms announced by the state board every week.

Such is the announcement received by Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner. These messages will be sent broadcast from Columbus at 4:30 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. every Thursday. The only condition is that amateurs transmit the messages to the district health commissioners and acknowledge receipt of the radiogram.

Dr. Sutter asks that any Lima operators who pick up these messages call him by telephone room afterward.

WILL STAY ON JOB
CINCINNATI. — Freight handlers platform and yard clerks of the Big Four railroad in the Cincinnati terminal, at a meeting last night, decided to continue on the job when their work goes to a private contractor, and to await the decision of the railroad labor board, as to whether railroad work can be farmed out. The sentiment of the men, it was said, at the start of the meeting, was in favor of taking a strike vote.

BONDS SOLD
COLUMBUS. — The remaining $5,000,000 worth of soldier bonus bonds were sold to Stacy and Braun, Toledo, at a premium of $88,300.56 by the state sinking fund commission which reported that $11,706,385 has been paid out to former soldiers.

Study the people you see on the streets every day. One-third of them are under weight and under nourished.

Tired, worn out, inefficient: —and still in their youth!

"One hundred million people," says Herman N. Bundesen, M. D., Health Commissioner of Chicago, "are ready for health truths; ten million of these are sick and paying in many ways for their ignorance of health fundamentals."

Ten million sick people!

How many other millions there are—people we meet and see everywhere—who are not actually ill, but who nevertheless lack vitality and energy; people having little or no endurance.

What is the real cause of failing strength and endurance; premature old age?

Medical scientists proclaim new truths

Leading physicians and physiological experts now know that many of these so-called minor ailments are directly and entirely due to foods deficient in certain vital elements!

Scientific investigation discloses two additional facts of vast importance to thinking men and women everywhere: [1] deficient food is an indirect cause of all disease; [2] food rich in the necessary elements—food, not drugs—is destined to be the greatest medicine of the future.

What makes many foods deficient?

The element in which many foods are deficient is vitamin, the newly recognized factor which is indispensable to health.

Deficiency of vitamin is caused by various food processes such as milling of grain; refining of sugar; heating to high temperatures; discarding of water in which foods are boiled, and many other prevailing methods of food "preparation."

So, no matter what kind of food you eat or how much you eat, without vitamin you cannot be strong and energetic.

MAJOR LEAGUE QUARTETTE STILL HOLDS OUT

They Are In Earnest

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)
NEW YORK — Dick Kerr, Dutch Leonard, Ed Roush and Walter Schmidt are still hold-outs.
Contrary to the general theory that they were dodging the tedious times of spring training, the quartet failed to show up for the openers.
Perhaps they are waiting until it gets warmer.
MAY WORK IN SEMI-PRO
Kerr says he is going to work today with a Chicago semi-professional team. Roush is farming and the other pair are waiting. Kerr hasn't been the favorite son in the Comiskey household since the lamentable days after 1919, when Dickey, one of the few white ones left, insisted upon having the price of an unexpired contract raised.
Perhaps the Sox figure they are going to the basement this year and there is no reason to pay the freight of a $10,000 pitcher with them. Roush is holding out because he just can't help it.
CINCY FANS WITH ED
Cincinnati fans siding with Roush, point out that if the Cardinals can afford to pay Rogers Hornsby $22,500 a year, the Reds can pay Roush $15,000 as the club paid a 20 per cent dividend last fall.
Dutch Leonard wants $15,000 from Frank Navin and he has a slim chance of getting it. Ty Cobb isn't any too keen about him.

ONLY 3 GAMES PLAYED

Only three games were played in the majors Friday, rain and cold weather halting all procedure except in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. Weather conditions today favored a resumption of warfare.
Jesse Barnes, New York Giant hurler, allowed Brooklyn only six hits and set them down with ease while McGraw's men jumped Al Mamauz off the hill. Score 10 to 2.
Ed Rommel turned in a win for the Philadelphia Athletics, over the Boston Red Sox, who slugged hard. Score 8 to 2.
Rube Marquard, newly acquired by Boston, from Cincinnati, set back the Philly Nationals, 6 to 2.

GOES TO ENGLAND, SEEKING COURT TENNIS TITLE

By BOB DORMAN
NEW YORK — While Dempsey was sailing on the Aquitania to England, willing to risk his title, another passenger was on board, going abroad in search of a world's championship.
Walter A. Kinsella, the professional court tennis expert, left for England to meet George F. Covey, present holder of the world's professional title, in a match to be held at the Prince's Club, Knightsbridge, England.
The match will be played on May 15 and 17, and if necessary to reach a decision the finals will be played on May 20.
The championship will be decided by the best seven in 13 sets. There will be no deuce and advantage sets, the player first taking six games being the winner in each case.
Four sets will be played on the first day and four on the second, unless one of them should take seven straight. On the final day as many sets will be played as is necessary to reach a decision.
Kinsella is confident that he will bring home the title.
"If the fact that I feel in the best

ought to win.
"The old injury to my leg doesn't bother me at all, and I will have fully a month to become acclimated and to practice.
"If I should win the title I shall return immediately to America and hope to meet Jay Gould, the American amateur champion, in a match for the open championship."
Gould formerly held the world's open title, which he won from Covey in Philadelphia 10 years ago, but later allowed the title to return to Covey by default.

IS DESCENDANT OF DAVE CROCKETT

NORMAN, Okla. — David Crockett, a direct descendant of the famous Texas pioneer of the same name, made immortal by the attack on the Alamo, is expected to return to the University of Oklahoma for the year 1922-23. Crockett formerly attended the university.
Crockett, known as a star pitcher of the United States navy, will be lined up with the Sooners football and baseball teams upon his return to school, and is counted as a valuable asset.

Is Slugger Of Old

THERE is only one 100 per cent natural hitter, or free swinger in the American League and he is Bob Veach, left fielder of the Detroit Tigers.
Since Napoleon Lajoie led the batsmen, free swingers have become about as removed from baseball as the dodo from this earth.
Lajoie was a natural batsman, probably the greatest that ever faced a pitcher. Lajoie's success prompted batsmen to accept the free swing as the proper method at bat.
Lajoie passed and in his place came Tyus Raymond Cobb, the game's greatest scientific batsman. Cobb never has been a natural batsman, never a free swinger. He is a chop batter, meeting the ball in front with a chop stroke.
CHANGES STYLE
His success brought about a change in batting style and the newcomers followed his example. The great batsmen that strung along with Cobb, Tris Speaker, George Sisler, Eddie Collins and others are all exponents of the chop stroke, all scientific hitters.
The natural batter, "takes a nasty cut at the ball," in the parlance of the sport. "He swings from the ear with a perfect follow thru." Veach is the only man in the American League that does this today. No matter what pitcher he opposes, what situation he happens to find himself in, Veach always swings with the same motion, always takes a long cut, "from the ear."
Baba Ruth, greatest slugger of all time, is frequently classed as a natural batsman. Ruth is a free swinger more than anything else, but not a 100 per cent free swinger.

STARS, VETS IN FINAL

The city junior championship basketball tournament at the Y. M. C. A. simmered down Friday to two teams, when the White Stars thumped the Cubs in a tight race which consumed five minutes overtime, score 13 to 9, and the veterans crashed into the Titans in a less torrid fray, score 16 to 8.
Serious contention was put up by the fierce Cubs. They overcame a 7-4 lead at the beginning of the second half, and soon had it at 9-all. The regular time closed in that way, then five minutes were tacked on and the White Stars shot a field basket and a foul.
The survivors of the second round meet tonight in the final clash.
Veterans are favorites to cop the trophy, but the Stars will probably show a stiff contest.

GRACE, TRINITY, PLAY OFF TIE

Winners of the Lima Church league will be decided in a game tonight at the Y. M. C. A. between the Grace and Trinity fives, each having finished with a percentage of .800 last Saturday night.
The set-to will follow the deciding game of the junior tournament, which begins at 7:30.
In event one of the two church quartets does not show up, the game and league title will be forfeited to the other team.

ASSOCIATES PAY TRIBUTE TO 'POP' ANSON, DIAMOND HERO

CHICAGO — Tributes today from scores of former associates of Adrian C. Anson, whose death occurred here yesterday, reflected the integrity of one of the greatest veterans of baseball. Captain Anson, "Pop" Anson, many called him, died within two days of his 70th birthday. He probably was the greatest hero of the game that he helped to establish many years ago.
Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the present Chicago Americans, and years ago Captain Anson's rival as a manager and leader, paid a final tribute.
"He was the greatest batter that ever walked up to hit at a baseball thrown by a pitcher. He was a fine, big honorable man, on and off the baseball field. He was an all-around sportsman, a great bowler, a fine billiardist, a competent golfer and a great man at the traps. He excelled at more branches of sport than any man I ever knew in baseball."
Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m., and the burial at Oakwoods cemetery Monday will be private.
The passing of Pop Anson, "Grand Old Man of Baseball," was mourned today by an army of his friends in New York.
John McGraw and Hughie Jennings, of the Giants; Wilbert Robinson, of the Brooklyn club and their players were told of Captain Anson's death after the game yesterday afternoon at the Polo grounds. All were grieved.
Sport writers and a great number of other persons who knew, admired and loved Captain Anson, recalled his presence at the last world series. He was one of the liveliest spectators enjoying himself by poking fun and swapping stories with other old timers.
Scores of messages of condolence and sympathy have been sent to Captain Anson's family from New York. Captain Anson made two trips abroad as an American baseball player. In 1874 he was a member of the American team that toured England, playing baseball and cricket. In 1888 Anson toured the world with the National League players' party.

'POP' BATS .337

In the 22 years of "Pop" Anson's diamond career with the Chicago club, he played in 2,250 games, knocking out 8,013 hits and scoring 1,053 runs in 8,947 times at the plate, giving him a grand batting average of .337, one of the greatest long distance records in baseball history.

DOUBLE CHIN TELLS MCGRAW A PLAYER IS SLIPPING

EDDIE COLLINS is generally considered baseball's greatest second baseman.
The White Sox and Giants played a spring series of 12 games prior to the opening of the season.
The Sox surpassed the world's champs by breaking even. The work of Eddie Collins featured every game in which he played.
Prior to one of the final games, John McGraw and Kid Gleason were watching the White Sox indulge in fielding practice.
"Collins is slipping," remarked McGraw to Gleason.
"How do you figure that?" asked Gleason, who rates Collins so far ahead of all other players there is no comparison.
"Why, look at him, he's getting a double chin," answered McGraw.
"The double chin is a sure sign of going the other way. Once it makes its appearance they fall off in fielding and hitting."

At this juncture Collins made a long drive and speared a liner back of second base with his gloved hand.
"Wish all my athletes would hurry and develop a double chin," lazily replied Gleason.
